Social Whirl Hits Newport With Regatta and Tennis

Bewildering Round of Luncheons, Dinners and Dances Culminates With Astor Ball Friday, Attended by 200 Leaders of the Fashionable Set

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—Newport society has completed the busiest week since pre-war days. Though the weather was not very good, it was sufficiently favorable to allow of little interruption in the extraordinary whirlwind of social activity, created by two of the biggest events of the season being held simultaneously—the invitation lawn tennis tournament at the Casino, and the Astor and King's cup races of the New York Yacht Club.

There were notably brilliant gatherings of society at the Casino, the large and fashionable Newport summer colony being added to considerably by many visitors. The summer season sartorial displays made a spectacle which, considering also the position of their wearers in the social world, is usually seen only at the "City-by-the-Sea."

Lively Round of Entertaining Culminates With Astor Ball

Beginning last week end there has been an almost bewildering round of entertaining—luncheons, dinners and dances—culminating in the big Astor ball, given by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor on Friday evening, at which more than 200 guests were present.

There was much entertaining of members of the summer colony on the vessels of the fleet, and many of those aboard were guests at affairs in the colony.

The tennis players were royally entertained during their stay here, and many were house guests of members of the summer colony. A number of players and visitors for the tennis and sailing arrived in time to be guests at the week-end entertainments, which included a large dance party by Mrs. R. T. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Francis A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Berwind, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Bogert, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Tangeman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Hugh B. Auld, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan and Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings.

Most prominent among the entertainments of the week was the dinner and dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor at their Bellevue Avenue estate last evening. Two hundred guests, comprising a particularly representative gathering of Newport society, made it a notably brilliant event.

Craig Biddle, chairman of the Casino tennis committee, entertained a large number of the players on Monday at a luncheon at the Casino grill. Paul Whitney and Mrs. Howard Cushing also gave luncheons, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Glynn a dinner at their Bellevue Avenue home. Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings, Mrs. Woodbury Blair and Mrs. Cyn were among the hostesses on Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James entertained a large number of the players, members of the summer colony and visitors at their big Beacon Hill Road estate.

On Wednesday T. Saffern Tallor gave a stag luncheon for the tennis men at Honeysuckle Lodge at which there was known as a group of well known and invited minstrels. Mr. Tallor also extended an invitation to the players to use his now private golf links, commencing with the best private course in the country. The privileges of the Newport Country Club and Bailey's Beach were also extended the visitors, who availed themselves of the excellent opportunities for golf and bathing, and with tennis and the many other entertainments they had a great week here. Wednesday evening there were dinners by Mrs. Lawrence Lewis Gillespie, Miss Evelyn Burden and William E. Caster, the latter affair being held at the Clam bake Club, where there was opportunity for dancing. The Gillespie dinner was one of the largest of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Davis also gave a dinner on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan gave a large dinner and dance on Thursday evening for their son, John Duncan, at which many of the tennis players were present. They are planning a dinner for August 18 in honor of Rear Admiral and Mrs. William S. Stiles. Mrs. Gustave J. S. White was another hostess Thursday evening and she also is arranging other affairs, which will include a dinner on August 11 for Mr. and Mrs. Preston Pope Satterwhite, who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley. Mrs. John Asagren and Mrs. Forsythe Wickes were luncheon hostesses.

On Friday evening an entertainment was given by Miss Louise Scott. A goodly number of the tennis players and summer residents attended an entertainment given for the players by Captain Douglas E. Dismukes, commandant of the naval training station, and the other officers there. Among those present were Senator Miles Poindexter, acting chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, and Mrs. Poindexter, who are visiting Captain and Mrs. Dismukes. Mrs. Brady Harrison was also a dinner hostess on Friday evening.

Mrs. Forsythe Wickes was a luncheon hostess to-day, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James gave a large dinner this evening. Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew were among others who entertained this evening.

Among those gathering at the Casino was Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, who, arriving on Tuesday evening, missed only one day of the tennis, as rain caused a postponement of the matches on Tuesday. Mrs. Oelrichs has just returned from Europe, and the greetings of her many friends here made her a prominent figure at the Casino gatherings.

Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont is to entertain at the Country Club on August 11. Mrs. M. M. Van Buren has offered prizes for the tombstone tournament which opened this afternoon at the Country Club.

Midsummer Brings New Crowds Daily To White Sulphur

Regular Season Colony Is Growing Rapidly and the Next 4 Weeks Promise Big Social and Sport Events

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Aug. 6.—Midsummer at the White is bringing daily reinforcements to the crowds already here for the season, and the calendar for the next four weeks is full, with a record-breaking number of visitors, and many plans are being made for the sporting events on the schedule. On Tuesday will begin the ladies' summer golf championship, and many are expected to take part. The White Sulphur Springs summer tennis championship will be staged the third week, and golfers will be on hand for the old White summer championship the concluding week in August. The week-end are gala occasions because of the Casino dances, many of the society folk gathering on the breezy verandas or in the ballroom at that popular spot. About seventy-five of the younger social set turned out for the one held this week.

Miss Natalie Y. Smith entertained at dinner for a party of twenty-four guests, after which the party adjourned to the Casino for dancing. Among the many entertaining at the supper dance were Mrs. J. K. Wise, with a party of seven; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Donohue and Mrs. Edward H. Alsop, of Washington, with a party of fourteen. The veranda was decorated with lanterns there supper was served. Mrs. Kenna Elkins, of Washington, was hostess at a dinner at Kate's Mountain Lodge this week. Mrs. John A. Weekes and Miss Estelle Weekes rode to Lamhurst for luncheon before their return to New York to rejoin Mr. Weekes and Miss Alice D. Weekes, who were recent sojourners here.

Mrs. Benedict Entertains At Tea on Casino Lawn

Mrs. Maxwell Howard is here from New York to spend a month with her daughter, Miss Ruth Howard and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Hoffmann, who has a cottage here. Another addition to the New York colony was made by the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin, accompanied by their son and daughter, Ernest Iselin Jr. and Miss Louise Iselin.

Mrs. James Benedict, of New York, entertained at tea on the Casino lawn this week in honor of Mrs. William W. McAlpin. Her guests were Mrs. Joseph R. Guernsey, Mrs. J. L. Roberts, Mrs. Andrew M. Reid, of Baltimore, Mrs. Norwood King, of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. George D. Kahlo, Mrs. Robert D. Lewis, of St. Louis, and Mrs. James B. Weir.

Mrs. Walter C. Hardy, of Charleston, was also hostess at a Casino tea following an afternoon at bridge, which was played at her cottage, the guests adjourning to the Casino afterward.

Mrs. R. A. Claybrook, of Plainfield, N. J., who has been spending the summer here and at Mountain Home with her daughters, is leaving for Tidewater, Va., for the rest of the season.

Mrs. Cornelius H. Tangeman

SOCIETY at Newport. Miss Evelyn and Miss Florence Loew are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew. They took an active part in the lawn fête held recently at Newport.

Miss Isabel Laughlin is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Laughlin, at Newport. She was one of the flower vendors at the lawn fête held at Roslyn, the estate of General and Mrs. Wilder E. Wilder at Newport.

Upper Saranac Colonists Aid Adirondacks Charities

UPPER SARANAC, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Making their play count for the aid of the Adirondack charities is the endeavor of sojourners in the camps on the Upper Saranac and at Saranac Inn. A large sum was realized for the benefit of Sanatorium Gabriels as a result of the progressive bridge party in the Inn on Monday evening. It was under the direction of Mrs. R. Golden Donaldson and Miss Eleanor Mills, of Washington. Mrs. F. J. Moore, of New York, captured first prize. The consolation prize went to Mrs. J. T. McKenna, of Yonkers.

As a result of the "tombstone" golf tournament, in which all the players of that game are engaged to-day, it is expected a considerable sum above the cost of prizes will be cleared in aid of the Saranac Lake General Hospital. The committee in charge of this event is the same as that in charge of the "ringer" tournament, which continues until Labor Day and includes H. H. Firth, S. P. Howe and W. Linton Landreth.

Mrs. Douglas Huntly Gordon, of Baltimore, who is spending the season at Saranac Inn, gave one of the dinner parties of the week there, entertaining for the members of the camp party of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Flint, of New York and Isip, including Mr. and Mrs. Flint, Miss Margaret Flint and General Bethel and H. McCormick Goodheart, of the British embassy. The latter has now gone to Lenox.

Miss Sue Bucknell, of Atlanta, Ga., entertained with a small dinner for a number of her friends in the younger set at Saranac Inn.

At their camp on the Upper Saranac Lake Mr. and Mrs. Jules Bache, who recently arrived, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. E. Gary Spencer, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius N. Bliss Jr., of New York, have as guests at their Upper Saranac lake camp Miss Lily Fushing, daughter of Mrs. Howard Cushing, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dunn Douglas, who recently arrived from Llewellyn Park, N. J., have opened their camp on the Upper Saranac for the season. John G. Agar has joined his family at the Agar camp, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Lane, of New York, have arrived at

Military Wedding For Louise Delano In Lenox in Sept.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Delano Will Become Bride of Col. S. A. Cheney; Berkshires Society Active

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 6.—Miss Louise Delano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Adrian Delano, is to have a military wedding at the Congregational Church, in Stockbridge, when she is married about the middle of September to Colonel Sherwood A. Cheney, U. S. A. Mr. Delano and family are occupying this season Miss Virginia Butler's house, the Nunery, at Stockbridge. Colonel Cheney is a member of the noted Cheney family of South Manchester, Conn. He was graduated from West Point in 1897 and from the General Staff College at Washington last June.

Great Barrington society entertainments this week centered about the annual Wyantenuck Golf Club tournament. Among those who entertained with dinners were Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard, Dr. and Mrs. John Dodge Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Denison D. Dana, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Niebet, Mrs. David Ives Mackie had a bridge party on Thursday at Pine Cliff in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Turley Mackie. The tournament festivities closed with a ball at the Wyantenuck clubhouse to-night.

Mrs. I. C. Bates Dana, of New York, and Mrs. John Shepard, of Boston, have made the ball scores this season of the Wyantenuck women members. Their records are 100 and 102, respectively, for the eighteen holes. Mrs. William B. Osgood Field and son, Frederick Vanderbilt Field, are on the Lenox golf course each morning, while Mrs. Chisholm Beach and Miss Janet M. Beach are morning players on the Lenox Club tennis courts.

Mrs. Osborne in Charge of Stockbridge Golf Tea

Mrs. Loyall Allan Osborne was in charge of the tea at the Stockbridge Golf and Tennis Club this afternoon at their estate, Tanglewood, on Monday afternoon. This 266-acre estate, with a primeval pine forest, was bought by William Aspinwall Tappan, father of Mrs. Dixey and Miss Tappan, in 1849. It is on the north shore of Lake Mahomet. During the summers of 1850 and 1851 the little red cottage that formerly stood on the property was occupied by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Mrs. E. Crosby Doughty, of Williams-town, had a luncheon party at the Maplewood Hotel on Tuesday, complimentary to Mrs. Donald B. Sinclair, of Princeton, N. J., Maplewood arrivals include the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires and Mrs. Stires, of New York, and Rear Admiral H. S. Knapp, U. S. N.

At the Curtis Hotel are Mrs. Joshua W. Davis and daughter, Mrs. Lindsay Russell, who have many friends in the Lenox colony; Dr. and Mrs. Walter B. James and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Frelinghuysen, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Reuter, Miss Carolyn Reuter and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Carr, of New York, are at Heaton Hall in Stockbridge.

Southampton in Full Social Stride; Ready for Big Fair

Long Island Colony Passes Through Week-End of Luncheons, Dinners and Dances; Gets Set for the Village Carnival, Which Opens Friday

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 6.—There was much entertaining to-day on the part of the summer colony at the various villas and cottages, and luncheons, dinners and small informal dances were numerous. Most of the dinners were given in connection with the dance at the Meadow Club, which was one of the most largely attended affairs of its kind of the season. The resort is now in its full stride and there will be much of interest to the social world going on until Labor Day. The village fair, the big charitable event of the summer, will be held on Friday afternoon and evening; the tennis tournament will follow week after next, when there is more entertaining than at any other period during the summer. Dinners and dances are scheduled for almost every day for the remainder of the month.

Among those who entertained at dinner last night were Mrs. F. Burrall Hoffman, for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, at their villa, Glen Glassie; Mrs. Rawson L. Wood, who gave a dinner at the Claridge; Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dana.

Mrs. Hoffman's dinner was for friends who are interested in the project of establishing in the national capital a civic home in which all families organizations desiring headquarters will be invited to take space. The site for this home already has been acquired on Connecticut Avenue and the foundation is now initiating a nationwide campaign for members. Mrs. Calhoun will speak in the interests of the foundation on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Memorial Hall. This will be the first of a series of addresses arranged for this vicinity by Mrs. Hoffman, who is the state president of the foundation.

Street Fair Promises To Be Successful Event

The Street Fair to be held on Friday afternoon and evening, August 12, for the benefit of the Southampton Hospital, promises to be most successful. The fair will be held in Agawam Park and there will be a midway, a bowling alley and a well appointed circus. There will be booths where fancy and useful articles will be sold, and a tea room will be presided over by well known members of the colony, and there will be numerous other attractions. The entire Monument Square, which is on the border of Lake Agawam, will be inclosed and there will be a row of booths along the street at the west side, placed in an alley of giant sunflowers.

That section of the fair grounds which will particularly appeal to children will be a wonderland. This is being arranged by Mrs. Orson D. Mann, and in the inclosure there will be at least nine different features.

There will be a merry-go-round, donated by Mrs. George Leary, for the larger children, and a baby merry-go-round for the little children. In this inclosure Mrs. Vincent S. Mulford will have a department for toys, also a pirates' den and a Captain Kidd's treasure chest, both of which will be filled with surprises for the little ones. There also will be a giant racer with two runways on which will be cars to take the kids on a voyage of discovery, and this diversion is being supplied by Mrs. Arents Humphreys, who also has been assured the presence of Mrs. W. Haywood Drayton 3d, the originator of the Campbell Kids. Mrs. Drayton will make not only portraits of children, but at night those of their elders, all at a price to swell the general receipts.

Society Leaders in Charge Of All Branches of Fair

Mrs. Peter B. Wycoff is president of the entertainment committee of the fair and Mrs. Arthur B. Clafin the vice-president. Mrs. Edward P. Melton is treasurer and Mrs. Phillips B. Thompson, secretary. Publicity is in charge of Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. Charles E. Miller will have tickets on sale. Mrs. A. Stewart Walker, will superintend the decorations. Mrs. George C. DeWitt and Mrs. James L. Barclay will be in charge of the book sales. Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine will preside over a section where some of the latest styles in motors will be sold in a pavilion to be erected for the sale.

Mrs. George Barton French will chaperone the children who will dance in the afternoon and at night. This part of the entertainment will be looked after by Mrs. Robert Potter Breese. Mrs. Andre de Coppet will be at the wheel of fortune, and Mrs. Joseph R. Dillworth at the tombola. Mrs. Charles H. Sabin hats, Mrs. Wyckoff ornamental candles for dinner tables, Mrs. Walker cards for bridge, eucalyptus, Mrs. George A. Dixon jr., perfumes, and Mrs. George Leary will have charge of the merry-go-round.

One of the interesting attractions arranged by Mrs. Robert P. Breese is a large platform that has been erected under a large willow tree, which will be illuminated by Japanese lanterns and gaily colored birds.

Exhibition dances will be given by M. and Mme. Roberto, lately arrived from Paris, and William J. Kelly. A Casino will be conducted by Mrs. Goodhue Livingston, Mrs. George Bar-ton French, and Mrs. Edward Van Ingen. With these and other events it is sure to prove one of the most attractive features of the street fair.

Good Golf at Poland Spring

Vacationists at Maine Resort Show Splendid Form

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

POLAND SPRING, Me., Aug. 6.—Splendid golf was seen on the Poland Spring course this week when Fred J. Wright Jr. and Lewis Waldron, of Boston, were defeated in a 36-hole match by A. H. Fenn and Hiram Ricker Jr., by a margin of 2 up. Moreover, Poland Spring fans are looking forward with great interest to the visit of the English golfers Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, who will play here on August 15.

Miss Florence Klitz, of New York, entertained a number of the younger set at cards in the Poland Spring House parlors this week. Miss Ruth Broughton, of Bloomfield, N. J., and Edward P. Ricker Jr., of New York, won the prizes, while other participants from Manhattan included William L. Williams and Donald and Norman Lawson. Mrs. Marjorie Earl, of Montclair, and Mrs. Alan Passmore, of Philadelphia, also were present.

Ambassador Frederico A. Pezet and family, of Peru, arrived at the Poland Spring House Tuesday of this week for a short visit.
